URGENT: CUBA NEEDS SYRINGES for COVID-19 VACCINATION

Your contribution is vital and urgent

With Global Health Partners, our goal is to raise $100,000 to ship 3 million syringes to Cuba, helping to vaccinate at least one million people.

Thanks to Cuban biotechnology, vaccination is beginning and most adults in Cuba could be vaccinated by August, with one of two Cuban vaccines.

The catch is: while Cuba can produce over 100 million vaccine doses, doctors and nurses are short some 20 million of the 30 million syringes they need for the two to three vaccine jabs per person.

Why? Some 200 extra restrictions imposed in the Trump era threaten to drain the Cuban economy, already confronting the pandemic…and a worldwide syringe shortage amidst supplier price hikes. Despite Cuba's best record in Latin America for COVID-19 control, the disease is now peaking.

Vaccination is key to stop it. This is a worldwide campaign: Throughout Europe and Canada, people like us are already joining to help Cubans control COVID-19 and open up the country.

Cuba is doing its part with nearly 5,000 health professionals volunteering in 40 countries AND Cuban pharma has pledged to ensure vaccines for other developing countries.

Let's do our part to ensure that those vaccines reach Cubans themselves
